

JUNIOR PRINCIPAL, ARCHITECT

Andrew Roche, Junior Principal and Architect for Creative Design Solutions (CDS), has extensive experience in all aspects of architectural design from the initial client meetings and program development, through construction documentation and construction administration.

Andrew has successfully lead project teams on projects ranging from small additions/renovations to new multi-million dollar facilities. He keeps the client's expectations and needs in line with the project budget and programmatic needs while leading and coordinating the project design team.

As a Junior Principal/Architect Andrew will oversee the project from concept through construction administration and perform quality checks at all major milestones.

While working for over 17 years in the profession, Andrew has worked on a variety of building types. While his recent focus has been with Hospitality and Healthcare, he also has experience with Community Centers, College and University based Living, Libraries, Churches, and even a 250 million dollar 1,300 room Themed Hotel.
